RETREAT BACKGROUND

The outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic, constantly changing business environment, the VUCA world and globalization are putting more challenges before the business leaders than ever before. As seemingly irreconcilable problems emerge, the expectation from those who lead is becoming ever more demanding. There is a growing need amongst business leaders to revisit and reinvent their business strategies and model to efficiently address the new realities created by the global pandemic and disruptions.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

AIMA's Leadership Retreat is an interactive onsite learning program aimed at middle and senior level executives and aims to help them be better prepared for uncertain times and capitalize on the emerging opportunities.

METHODOLOGY

The Retreat would be conducted in an experience sharing mode and the learning experience will be very intensive and interactive, encouraging high level of active participation by the delegates. Pedagogy will include sharing of ideas; case studies and group discussions.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

The AIMA Retreat will provide an opportunity to help business leaders take a pause, reflect, review and look at innovative strategies to keep up with frequent change and efficiently navigate radical uncertainty through the experience of leaders who have effectively responded to the constantly evolving threats and opportunities while charting a path to sustainable growth.
